Grand jury reports

On c'thouse
general fund

After examining 21 witnesses and investigating eight criminal cases, the grand jury returned seven indictments before recessing Tuesday evening. The jury was empaneled Monday morning by Judge Leslie B. Grant when he opened the January term of Circuit Court.

The report said that the Court House is in very poor condition and contained to be overcrowded, as reported by previous grand juries, and urged the board of supervisors to take the matter up immediately and that something be done to alleviate these conditions.
Also that the general fund is overdrawn and owing had before the county auditor and members of the state audit department, we find this has happened frequently in the past.

From our examination this appears to be simply a matter of spending more money than is in the fund. We realize there are certain factors such as spending of money for feeding prisoners and court costs
over which the board has no control but we strongly urge the new board make every effort to operate the general fund within its budget so there will be no deficiency.

Of the seven indictments,
four defendants have been taken into custody and will be arraigned before Judge Grant at 9 a.m. Monday. They are Lawrence Hogan, charged with burglary and larceny Nov. 12
at the home of James W. Wall and Leslie Clark in Waveland
when $555 in electrical goods
and other articles were taken.
Irving Francis St. Pe, burglary and larceny in connection with taking a tractor, furniture and other items from a farm near Carriere last fall.
Alexander (Tuck) Bush, Negro, burglary and larceny Dec.
31 at Hoagland Ford Sales Co., 130 Court St., when a $2,400
automobile belonging to Auderent Dental Laboratories
of New Orleans was taken.
Richard York, grand larceny
in theft of a $1,500 Pontiac
from Farris Gregory on Dec.
26.

The county jail and home for the poor were found to be in excellent condition and well run.
Hancock General Hospital was found to be well run but leaks were found in the roof and it was recommended the board of supervisors look to the future as to providing additional space.

the low bid Monday to the board of supervisors on purchase of a 20-year $175,000 bond issue
to raise local matching funds

The local bank offered an interest rate averaging 3.37738

Leland Speed of Jackson offered the lowest price on a 25-year issue—3.5264 per cent interest.

Before bids were opened the board's attorney, Lucien

the negotiated sale and its urgency to meet conditions of the hospital expansion under the accelerated public works act.

tions from prospective buyers
by telephone with Charles and

Port resource study
optimistic on water

The Port and Harbor Commission heard an interim report Thursday night from Alva
H. Rutledge of Michael Baker
Co., Jackson engineers, doing a survey of county resources
for the commission.

In the broader over-all study of the county's industrial potential the study of ground water availability is well along they way, Rutledge said, while a report on existing and possible waterways and a soil study have been started. He also advised that there was every indication that the preliminary planning report would be ready by the target date, March 1.
After that, on authorization by the board of supervisors, Michael Baker would be ready to proceed with preparation of a master development, he added.

Just in case anyone has any ideas of relaxing and recuperating from the just past double holiday, let us hasten to remind you you'd best rest up in a hurry to get in shape for Carnival. The fact that it comes so early this year explains the hurried looks on many faces. Denizens of the Deep will present their third annual mock ball Jan. 31 at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club and the 31st St. Joseph affair is scheduled for Feb. 7.

As always, we're already being asked who'll reign over the ball and we can truthfully say we haven't the faintest idea. The only secret we're in on is the theme and can only pass on the news that it promises to be one of the most unusual and interesting to date.

More about those snowbound

We're still hearing stories of travellers who were fouled up in our SNOW. The J.D. McCullouchs visited relatives in Jackson during Christmas and left the capitol city early Tuesday, New Year's Eve, with the idea of returning home in time to attend the Sugar Bowl. After a miserable five hours battling icy roads they gave up and spent New Year's with more relatives in Louisville. Mrs. McCullouch reports that it was really amusing. . . usually prized Sugar Bowl tickets could be had for the asking. . . North Mississippi residents were offering them free to anyone willing to brave the elements to get to the game.

Flora and Alden Mauffray also ran into some rough driving weather on their trip to and from Muncie, Ind., but made it safely and brought back the news that Julie and Larry are fine and the children more adorable than ever, of course.

Belated congratulations are on the way to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tait who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Dec. 27. The reason for the belatedness is that the Taites were honored on the occasion at the home of their daughter, Mrs. V. Miller in New Orleans, and as soon as they returned home they took off for Mobile, Ala. Back to the anniversary party. All five of the Taites' children, Wiley, Jr., J. H., Mmes. Miller, A. G. Hurley, J. H. Childress and nine grandchildren, J. H., Jr., Jeffrey, Scott and Raymond Miller, Gerry, Gene, Bruce and Connie Hurley and Larry Childress were there to admire the floral decorations and eat the enormous cake.

Ready for Mardi Gras

Nell (Mrs. Eddie) Bourgeois, nee Stieffel, writes that all is well and just about the whole family including herself, Eddie, Annamie and Tommy Silbernagle (Annamie too was a Stieffel) and Kenny Stieffel are employed at Avondale Shipyards. She adds that they will be on float number 23 in the Elks parade Carnival Day for the information of anyone from here planning to go to the Crescent city for Mardi Gras.

Think this must have some significance, although don't quite know what it proves. . . Johnny Scaffie cut the first official ribbon of his career at the formal opening of Coastal Savings' new office last Saturday.

To all who're playing tv b— (can't use the word) George Green was our first local winner. He is now $25, richer. While on the subject of winners, Rose and Charlie Richard took the beautiful stainless steel set home in Waveland Drug's pre-Christmas drawing.

Grandparenthood and such

When we were on the most 'doting grandparents' bit we erred slightly. . . Mr. Delph and Carmen Mitchell should truly be vying for that title with Louise Wymer who is already looking forward to baby sitting with her second grandchild. . . daughter-in-law Pat and son Gene Watkins are to be parents again in June. They're elated over the expected arrival, but Louise and Joe appear even more excited than the prospective parents. . .

And on the subject of prospective parents, Merle Stieffel expects her latest almost any day now. . . Merle isn't feeling too well, and her condition wasn't helped by the fact that Bert was rushed to a Pascagoula hospital last Wednesday with extremely high blood pressure. . . He's much better, however, and came home last weekend.

We wished Audrey Hoelzel a happy birthday last week but at the time had no idea she was to be honored at a party complete with cake and ice cream. Helping her celebrate were husband Eddie, Eddie, Jr., daughter Donna Ladner and children, her mother, Mrs. Rosalie Prest, Louise and Joe Wymer, Linda Schwartz and Anna Rose Krantky.

We'll also send birthday greetings to Louise Torgersen who cut her cake Saturday, Jan. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland (Rocky) Wyatt, observed their first wedding anniversary on the 22nd of last month but went out 'on the town' last Saturday night as an additional bit of celebration.

Ease (Louise) Charbonnet is busy planning her wardrobe for the trip she and husband Jean are taking to Europe early next month.

Newlyweds Terri and Doc Bosch weekendend in Waveland. . .

AT COAST STAMP SHOW — M. G. Harris of Pass Christian, center, co-chairman for Gulf Coast Stamp Club's first exhibit staged last Sunday afternoon at Buena Vista Hotel in Biloxi explains one frame to two visitors. More than 125 persons viewed show. Bay St. Louis residents entering frames included Mrs. George Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Powell Glass Jr., and Alfred S. Butler. Next club meeting will be at 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 1, at Coast Electric Power Assn. on U. S. 90.

hour she wrote a check for the amount, which would have been fine except for the fact that she had not one cent in the bank upon which she wrote the check! Fortunately she realized her error in time to make a quick phone call and explain that she had used the wrong check. We will add the hint that her mamma said she 'wouldn't know her' if the 'Law' came along to take her to jail!

Jean (Mrs. Gordon) Gleim took in the show at the Blue Room after attending a showing of spring fashions in the Crescent City Sunday. She enjoyed it thoroughly but couldn't get over the shock of seeing successful dieter Sophie Tucker with her now sylphlike figure!

George Stevenson looks tres chic in his very Parisienne cold weather beret. The latest local diet fad seems to be a combination of two ounces of sherry followed by a hard boiled egg. Might be effective, but we fear that the sherry so early in the day (it's at breakfast) would either have ye sild reporter loaded or sick, sick!

Quite a pup

Marcella (Mrs. Charles) Bradley loves Cleo, the pup which she acquired through the column from Doris and Dick Merritt, but is quite certain by that one of its parents must have been a Great Dane; Cleo's the size of a small horse already! The Clarence Stringers dropped in on Mrs. Bradley and Cleo on Monday.

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to Ruth (Mrs. G. M.) Favre upon the death of her mother, Mrs. Mary Tardo who passed away late Sunday afternoon at the age of 91.

Yvonne (Mother S.) and Norman Benigno were out for the first time in quite a while Saturday night. Yvonne looks wonderful but her doctor informed her that surgery would be necessary to remove kidney stones. . . she should be in the hospital about now. Norman walks with a cane but is well on the way to complete recovery from a severe attack of gout.

Waveland school really had a shortage of teachers last week. Mary Margaret Turcotte was hospitalized in Hancock General and Mary Perkins was in Hattiesburg undergoing (Cont. on Page 10.)

Christmas Gift

Checks totaling over $530,000 have been mailed to the 6,265 members of Hancock Bank's 1963 Christmas Savings Club, which is another record, and for 1963 our club led all the banks in Mississippi.

Hancock Bank pioneered in the idea and, for 49 years with the interruption of World War I only, when such planned savings were diverted into the purchase of Liberty Bonds, the bank has promoted its Christmas Savings Club as a good way to make the Holiday Season a happier occasion for thousands of depositors.

Already the 1964 Christmas Savings Club is under way as members join in our banks at Bay Saint Louis, Gulfport, Pass Christian, Mississippi City, Pass Road, and the new Gainesville Mississippi Test Operations office.

You can make your own 1964 Christmas a happier event by making weekly installments. Thousands of our depositors have found this an easy way to meet the problems that always come with the holidays, when greater demands are made on one's purse.

May we remind our customers again of our deep appreciation for their continued support and cooperation in the business of building a stronger and more useful bank.

Under circumstances sometimes difficult, we have carried on to do our utmost to strengthen our resources and improve our services, that we may become more helpful to the community and to those who work together to make the Mississippi Coast a healthier, happier and more prosperous place to make a living and do business.

Our officers, directors, stockholders and employees wish for you and yours a more abundant life. May the New Year bring you added opportunities and peace, and Good Will ever be the watchword and hallmark of this incomparable and growing Gulf Coast Country.

Should consider

Aside from the usual questions of cost versus public use involved in the Louisville and Nashville Railroad's application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to discontinue operation of its trains 9 and 12, the commuter, are two considerations we think important.

One of these, the public's attitude toward the L and N specifically and railroads in general, may be something only the railroad should consider but it certainly has a public side to it. The primary direct contact most of us have with railroads is through their passenger service. As this service continues to be cut back fewer and fewer people are conscious of any dependency on railroads. Thus in any controversy where the railroads are on one side and the unions or competitors or government on the other the railroads are losing public support, because so many of us couldn't care less if the result of the conflict meant that railroads went out of business.

Were our economy in peacetime or war and our war potential not so dependent on a good railroad system, this might not be tragic. But we are dependent on good railroads. When an individual seems intent on committing suicide we lock him up for his own protection. If there is real merit in our feeling that the railroads may be headed for self-destruction, perhaps some similarly drastic measure should be taken with them.

The other and more pressing consideration which the L and N's application brings to mind is founded on the increasing inability of automotive transportation to adequately handle the moving of people to and from work. Mr. Louis Bisso, New Orleans planning consultant, was essentially correct when he remarked to the Port and Harbor Commission last Friday that the only adequate highways were on the drawing board because by the time they are built they are obsolete. Whether increased commuter service by traditional rail lines is the answer for our major cities we don't know. Some major cities are seriously contemplating construction of mono-rail systems to meet this problem.

Whatever solution finally evolves it is certainly too early to abandon the traditional railroad as a factor, yet discontinuance of the commuter would be another step along that route.

early March.
Trustees voted unanimously to adopt a resolution approving Bay St. Louis commission council's efforts to secure a new sewerage and improved water and gas systems. Logue noted the hospital would be forced to expend $15 or $18 thousand on a sewerage system unless the city provided one, also that there were 16 hepatitis cases last year and other diseases that might be traceable to lack of a sewerage system.

Treasurer John D. Rutherford, Jr., read the December financial statement noting it was a good month patient earnings having increased more than $8,000 over December, 1962. Logue announced he had been nominated for membership in the American College of Hospital Administrators and payment of $50 yearly dues was approved. Only about 30 administrators in Mississippi have been accepted, he said, a B. S. degree in administration being necessary.

He was authorized to employ a student medical record librarian.

Rutherford was appointed chairman of a committee to raise funds for a Kenneth W. Pepperdine memorial room, Pepperdine having been an active hospital trustee. Logue said one of the NASA displaced families had pledged $500 to the hospital when they received payment for their property. The cost of memorializing, or equipping a room completely was estimated at $1,000.

Rutherford, Joe K. Duckworth and Hubert Thigpen, members of a committee appointed to look into the pay of the hospital's employees with the view of pay raises, reported that Gulfport's hospital had just completed a survey showing that the cost per day per patient had reached $30.42 and they were preparing to increase bed rates. Logue quoted a report from the American Hospital Assn. showing the average daily service charge for a hospital bed had increased last year from $18.40 to $19.40. Members agreed further income was needed to support a pay raise, probably from increased rates, and Otto J. Lachar.

Seek bids on expansion at Tiger stadium

Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School Board Monday night authorized Superintendent Joe D. McCulloch to advertise for bids for furnishing 576 more seats at Tiger Stadium. Installation of the new seats, estimated to cost $4,233.60 will give the stadium 1,576 seats on the home side and 800 on the visitor's.

The board directed the superintendent to notify the architect for the stadium, Fred Wagner, that the lights are not properly focused. Similar notification was to be sent Big Ben Construction Co., installers of the lighting system.

The board also asked McCulloch to find out from Wagner when final plans for the six additional classrooms at North Bay Elementary would be finished so bids for construction of the addition can be sought.

Although board members decided they should visit several new schools in South Mississippi before settling on an architect for the proposed new high school, they asked McCulloch to make arrangements for the board to interview possible architects at one or more special meetings.

Payment of transportation docket numbers 39 through 50 and district maintenance and other expense docket numbers 297 through 348 was approved. The next regular meeting of the board will be Feb. 10.

Bay High's 28th annual invitational basketball tournament, the oldest of its kind on the Gulf Coast, gets under way at 6 p.m. next Thursday with a contest between the girls of Hancock North Central and Pearl River Central. only one point in the closing seconds.

A capacity crowd is expected for each session of the tournament, considered by many the highlight of the basketball season in Hancock County, and Bay High's faculty, student body and school officials will do their best to make everyone welcome.

Jones girls win Pop'ville event

Valena C. Jones' girls snapped into action last week running a winning streak up to seven games, winning the Poplarville Tournament beating Poplarville 39-12 in the finals Saturday night, Nichols at Biloxi 28-17 Friday and John Jefferson of Purvis 62-25 Monday night at home.

They also whipped W. F. Jones of Hattiesburg 43-26 Saturday morning and Locker High of Wiggins 42-22 Saturday afternoon in the semi-finals at Poplarville. Coach Willie Bradley waxed enthusiastically about the girls' improved play and predicted a conference championship if they continue improving. Their over-all record for the season is 12-1 and 3-0 in conference play. The Jones' girls suffered a cold streak and tasted defeat for the first time this season losing two games. They were knocked out of the Poplarville tourney by Locker High of Wiggins 50-38 and dropped a toughie to Nichols at Biloxi Monday 52-49. But they returned to winning form Monday beating Purvis 92-72 and now have a 9-2 over-all record and 3-0 in conference play.

Eartha Dorsey was top scorer in all the girls' games getting 37 against Purvis, 26 against Hattiesburg, 22 against Poplarville and 14 against John Jefferson. Marilyn Price scored 12, 9, 14 and 6. Other high scorers were Annie Haynes and Gladys Mullins. Defensive stars were Linda Young, Haynes and Carolyn Robinson.

In the boys' winning effort against Purvis Joe Tate got 25 followed by Sullivan Bell with 24. Bradley credited Cleveland Williams and J. W. Fields with best defensive play. Both squads are enjoying a much needed rest and will resume play Saturday in the Randolph Invitational at Pass Christian. Other competing teams are North Gulfport, Picayune, Poplarville, and St. Rose de Lima. Next home game is Monday with Purvis.

SJA wins 1 on road

St. Joseph Academy's basketball girls trekked to Louisiana last weekend but could only bring home one win, the Gold Jays beating Catholic High of New Roads, La., 43-28 Friday but the Baby Jays dropped the opener 34-30.

Saturday the Gold Jays led St. Joseph Academy of Baton Rouge for two quarters, 13-12, 16-14 but weakened and dropped the third 14-15 and the final 11-15 to wind up on the short end of a 56-54 score. The Baby Jays also lost a close one in the first contest at Baton Rouge 33-30. The varsity ladies had to come from behind to beat Catholic High, quarter scores being 8-10, 16-15, 32-22 and 43-28. Jo Mary Artigues was high girl with 21 and Suzi Rhodes got 13. For Ch. Sheila Durel scored 15. High for the Baby Jays Friday were Marlene Morel 12 and Susan Ryan 11.

Jo Mary tried hard to pull Saturday's game out of the fire with 32 points but she was two short. Suzi and Brenda Hudson got 11 each. Lurine Hamill of Baton Rouge got a solid 27 and Jean Delams 17. In the junior game it was Susan Ryan 18 and Marlene Morel 17.

The girls are resting this week and return to action Saturday entertaining a tough Pass Christian High team.

Clean sweep Friday Hawks take 3 from Bay High

A last ditch rally by Bay High fell short Friday night as Hancock North Central chalked up its 15th victory against one defeat this season edging the Tigers 60-57 in Bay High's gym.

The Hawks had a perfect night taking a triple header from the Tigers, the Hawkettes winning 35-22 and the junior varsity 29-24.

North Central jumped off to a 16-9 lead in the first period and stayed on top throughout the game although the Tigers got within twopoints several times, the halftime score being 24-22. But the Hawks put the game on ice in the third with a 48-38 lead. The Tigers took the final frame 19-12 and given a few more minutes the lads might have gone ahead. The Tigers now have an 8-6 record for the season.

Bay High's Larry Harrison was the night's top scorer, LeRoy Luke got 14 and Larry Johnson 12. For the Hawks Eugene Ladner was tops with 14 followed by Berlin and Wendell Ladner with 13 each and Eddie Peterson with 12.

The Tigerettes couldn't find the basket and trailed in every quarter except the third, quarter scores being 7-4, 12-7, 6-7 and 10-4. Hawkette Valerie Malley topped the scoring with 26 points while Melva Luke got 10 for the Tigerettes.

For the junior varsity, Bay High's C. J. Wyman got 10 and Kenny Malley got 9 and Kenny Hoda 8 for the Hawks.

FLAMELESS ELECTRIC HEAT

...if you're planning to build a new home or remodel your present one, consider these important advantages of flameless electric heating.

- WORRY-FREE MAINTENANCE: Properly installed electric heating systems last the life of the home, require no regular servicing.
- CLEANLINESS: Reports from home-makers show that in homes with electric heating, dusting time can be cut an average of 60 per cent.
- EASE OF OPERATION: Temperatures automatically stay within one-and-one-half degrees of thermostat setting, respond quickly to changes.

There are many more reasons why modern electric heating systems are growing in popularity. Your electrical contractor, or nearest Mississippi Power Company will be happy to explain them to you.

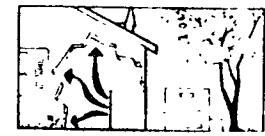

THREE WAYS TO HEAT ELECTRICALLY

Baseboard units heat by both radiation and convection. All surfaces are warmed evenly, and control is by individual room thermostat.

Wall panel heaters have heating coils behind a decorative grill. Small fans may be used with this thermostatically controlled unit.

Heat pump heats home in winter, cools it in summer. It's automatically reversible and maintains any desired year-round temperature.

Dog doings

Lollie Backlund performed an act of kindness Friday and now finds herself in somewhat of a canine catastrophe. She spotted a small male dog frantically dashing from one side of the Bay Bridge to the other, stopped and picked it up before an automobile could kill it. The little animal with shiny reddish hair, about eight months old, is gentle, well fed and is obviously someone's pet. Lollie's quite anxious to find either the owner or a good home, as her two enormous dogs and one cat resent the intrusion and she's spending most of her time keeping her animals from devouring the pup.

Still on the doggy subject, Herman has been found and the Ollo Mollere family is ecstatic. Your reporter spotted him last Tuesday near Jitney Jungle but by the time we found someone who could make positive identification, (in this case John Parker, who works for the Molleres), he had fled. John was certain the dog in question was Herman and continued the search picking up the wandering one on St. Charles Street around 4 the same afternoon. A joyous reunion followed. For future reference, as Herman apparently has roving ways, if anyone sees a tiny light brown part chihuahua with one dark brown spot on the tip of his tail please call either Kitty or Ollo... don't think we can go through this again: passers-by appeared about ready to call the little men in white suits as we kept looking around and under houses calling 'Here! Herman, here Herman!'

Twenty-third wedding anniversary congratulations are in order for Audrey and Eddie Hoelzel who were wed two score years and three Sunday, Dec. 12.

Jeffrey Schultz and wife Inez arrived home Sunday. Jeffrey, who is the oldest son of Louella (Mrs. Travis) Culbreath, has been stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., with the Army and is spending a 30 day leave here before reporting for duty in Korea. Inez has taken a home on Austin Lane where she'll await his return.

Sports notes

May Debenport sent us a wittily worded report on children who caught fish by hand off the seawall at Lakeshore Road during the recent freeze. A large gar was part of the haul, but we just can't find the litter... so thanks anyway, and if you'll drop us another line or two, we'll include the names in next week's column. Hunters don't let a little thing like cold weather deter them. As the final days of dove season dawned, George Georgi was out with his gun Monday, but saw not one dove; don't know how Arthur Tipping fared. He went Tuesday afternoon.
